Lawmen Say Woman's Killer Could Be Injured Whoever dumped the body of unable to say who she is or the strangled voung woman where she came from. over a 20-foot embankment on Coroner Andrew Johansen Enterprise rd. south of Santa said preliminary reports from Rosa may have injured his leg the pathologist indicated she died sometime around midnight or arm. That possibility was released Saturday by sheriff's officials this morn- He said previously the woman ing in further efforts to identify may have been tortured to the victim or her slaver death because she was slowly Sheriff's Lt. Charles Kish-strangled by a cord or wire baugh said there was a mark at around her neck for at least a the top of the embankment half hour before she died. where the body was found indi-Detailed analysis of further cating someone may have evidence is being conducted by slipped and fallen down the inc-doctors prior to completion of a line. more complete medical report. About 10 feet below that spot, the coroner said. he said, there was an impres-

He said tests also were being sion in the moist loam about a run to determine if the woman's foot long and 14 inches deep body showed any signs of drugs that may have been made by a or other foreign substances in person's leg. the blood. He said sheriff's officers were Sheriff Don Striepeke yesterworking on the theory that day said his identification techwhoever threw the woman over nicians had prepared 500 circuthe bank may have slipped and lars containing a description of fallen part way down himself.

Detective Sgt. Timothy Brown which were sent to all local law said it is possible the person enforcement agencies, as well may have even broken his leg as other governmental offices. or sustained an injury serious to assist in trying to identify enough to have required medithe victim. cal treatment. He said the circulars also As to the identity of the womwould be sent statewide within an, officials say they are still a few days.

The woman is described as 18 to 26 years old, 5-4 to 5-5, about 135 pounds, measuring 38-31-38, hazel to blue eyes, shoe size 61/2 to 7, light brown to reddish brown hair about 22 inches long.

the woman and a photograph.